

Great cardiology care is closer than you think. In fact, just a heartbeat away.

Are you one of the 22 million Americans who suffer from heart disease?

If so, you live in a great place for cardiac care.

Meet Dr. Michael Cohan and Dr. Burton Tepfer. Both are highly qualified and experienced cardiology specialists. And both practice right here at Brattleboro Memorial Hospital.

“BMH has everything necessary to prevent, diagnose and treat most heart problems right here,” says Dr. Tepfer, “We can do echocardiograms—or sonograms of the heart—nuclear cardiology, heart rhythm monitoring and more.”

Dr. Cohan adds, “The technology and staff at BMH are excellent. I have the tools and support I need to deliver cutting-edge cardiology care to patients. One of my goals here is to advance the practice of preventive cardiology in addition to offering advanced diagnostic and treatment options.”

Both Dr. Cohan and Dr. Tepfer have worked in large urban health centers, but they’ve chosen to practice at BMH because, as Dr. Tepfer says, “This is a great hospital—and there’s a special satisfaction in helping our friends and neighbors stay healthy.”

Great outcomes depend on great doctors. Fortunately, when it comes to cardiology, you’ll find two of the best right here at BMH.
